

New England Society of Children's Book Writers & Illustrators

December 31, 2014 at 9:53am

Congratulations to Mary Morton Cowan, winner of the Marguerite Davol agent critique scholarship for published authors, for her picture book manuscript LITTLE BROWN THRUSH, Congratulations also to Matthew Esenwine Forrest, winner of the Marguerite Davol agent critique scholarship for pre-published authors, for his manuscript, FLASHLIGHT NIGHT.

Each will receive a critique for their manuscript--Mary from Jane Yolen and Matthew from Mary Brigid Barrett--and will have an opportunity to revise it prior to submitting it for critique by an agent or editor at the 2015 New England conference.

Thanks to this year's judges: Jeannine Atkinson, Jo Knowles, and Brian Lies.

The Marguerite Davol scholarship was established in 2013 in memory of Peg Davol, a longtime SCBWI member, staunch and welcoming presence at the New England conference, and author of picture books including The Paper Dragon, illustrated by Robert Sabuda, which won the Golden Kite Award.